5) Notice of Informal Patent Application

Art Unit: 1656

Applicant's election without traverse of Group V, claims 31, 40, in the reply filed on August 27, 2010 is acknowledged.

Claims 1-30, 32-39 are withdrawn. Claims 31, 40 are currently under examination.

Priority: The request for priority to provisional application 60/507682, filed September 30, 2003, is acknowledged.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because it contains an embedded hyperlink and/or other form of browser-executable code: at p. 33 [0099]. Applicant is required to delete the embedded hyperlink and/or other form of browser-executable code. See MPEP § 608.01.

Claim Objections

Claim 31 is objected to because of the following informalities: the term "DKKL1" should be spelled out in full the first time that said term is recited in the claims. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 1656

Claims 31, 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 31 and 40 recite DKKL1 nucleic acids consisting of 15 to 30 consecutive nucleotides, or the complement thereof, spanning positions 329-330 of clone 379-RS3 and positions 188-189 of clone 379-RS4, respectively, shown in Figures 3A-3E. The claims are indefinite because there are no SEQ ID NOS, provided for said clones. Since clone numbers are subject to change, the identity of the nucleotides recited in the instant claims is indefinite.

Where the description of a patent application discusses a sequence of 10 or more nucleic acids, reference must be made to the sequence by use of the sequence identifier preceded by "SEQ ID NO:" in the text of the description even if the sequence is also embedded in the text of the description of the patent application (see 37 CFR 1.821, especially paragraphs (a)-(d)). The sequence identifier may be used in either the drawing or the Brief Description of Drawings (see MPEP 2422). The SEQ ID NO. that is provided must be in computer readable form (CRF).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re

Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January I, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 31, 40 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 60 of copending Application No. 11887692 ('692). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims and the '692 claim are both drawn to a method for detecting a level of expression of a DKKL1 nucleic acid. The '692 application discloses that the DKKL1 splice product modulator can be at least 10 consecutive nucleotides of a DKKL1 nucleotide sequence and the specification of the '692 application also discloses that said cancer can be colon cancer. Since there is no clear SEQ ID NO. recited in the instant claims, and the instant claims and the '692 claim both recite the active step of detecting a level of expression of a DKKL1 nucleic acid, the subject matter of the claims are believe to overlap in scope.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

No claim is allowed.
